Reply to German Peace Proposals Are Delivered to American Ambassador

Proclaims Germany Responsible for War

RESTITUTION AND REPARATION ASKED

(The Associated Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 30.—The reply of the Entente allies to the German peace note will be handed to American Ambassador Sharpe tonight, says the Pet-Parisienne, and will be published tomorrow.
The note again sets forth the responsibility of the Central powers for the war, says the paper, and insists on reparation and restitution as outlined by the British premier. The reply will say that Germany removed in advance all basis for negotiations by failing to formulate proposals. It also suggests that the Berlin cabinet in 1914 having proclaimed its contempt for treaties cannot obtain the same conditions as powers that are respectful of signatures and therefore must offer guarantees.

JAPANESE EARTHQUAKE CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

KOBE, Japan, Dec. 1.—Damage caused by the earthquake of Sunday, November 25, which was briefly reported by cable, was considerably greater than was first indicated.
The city of Kobe, one of the most beautiful places in Japan, stretching along the waterfront at the foot of picturesque mountains, found, after the subsidence of the shock, that a majority of its residences on the hillsides had suffered great damage. In this section are some of the finest houses, both Japanese and foreign, and many of them were so shaken that roofs fell in and walls tumbled into the streets.
It was the most severe shock experienced in central Japan in twenty-five years. In Kyoto, the big railroad station lost most of its windows and the walls sagged in several places. The disturbance was accompanied by a roar, like the booming of a great cannon, with a heated, oppressive atmosphere, which caused an even greater panic than the damage justified. No one was killed and no buildings were entirely demolished, but cracked walls and dislodged chimneys were general throughout central Japan.
A party of tourists who were spending the afternoon on the famous Rokkoko mountain just behind the city of Kobe are responsible for the story that they saw one of the neighboring hillsides move during one of the earth tremors.
Some of the Japanese earthquake experts believe the disturbance was due to the subsidence of subterranean fissures below the sea bottom off the city of Kobe.

SUGGESTS VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL OF U. S. FORCES IN MEXICO

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Counselor Polk of the state department and Charles A. Douglass, Carranza's attorney here, conferred on the Mexican situation today. Both are silent as to what transpired at the interview but it is understood, however, that Douglass suggested that the voluntary withdrawal of the American expedition without waiting for an agreement would go far toward clarifying the situation.

NEW RECORD ESTABLISHED FOR IMPORTATION OF GOLD

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Six hundred and eighty-four million, seven hundred thousand dollars in gold were imported into the United States this year. This establishes a new record for gold importation.

BURGMAN WILL INSIST ON FILLING OF CAR TRACK
C. F. Burghman, newly elected county commissioner from this district, will go to Deland Monday, preparatory to attending Tuesday morning the organization meeting of the commissioners, postponed from Monday because of its being New Year's day.
Mr. Burghman says that one of his first acts as county commissioner will be to insist upon the immediate filling in of the car track on Beach street with asphaltic concrete blocks according to the Proudfoot contract with the county, as he sees no reason for the delay. This is only one of the several matters which Mr. Burghman proposes to act upon in the interest of the public.

MERCHANTS BANK IS VERY PROSPEROUS

DIRECTORS DECLARE 12 PER CENT DIVIDEND—DEPOSITS IN-CREASED NEARLY HALF MIL-LION OVER LAST YEAR.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants bank held Thursday an annual dividend of 12 per cent was declared.

As everyone who is acquainted with Daytona knows the Merchants bank is Daytona's most powerful financial stronghold and the dividend Thursday of 12 per cent on the bank's stock denotes this institution has enjoyed its most prosperous year since its organization.

It will be of particular interest to the people of this vicinity, as an indication of the growth of the territory served by the Merchants bank, to know that the deposits of this institution on Thursday last aggregated the enormous sum of $1,310,218.98. On the same date last year the deposits were $832,550.70, the increase being more than 50 per cent, or to be exact $477,668.28.

The phenomenal success of the Merchants bank is attributed to the implicit confidence everyone has in it, to its conservative operation and the ability and integrity of its officials who are F. N. Conrad, president; S. A. Wood, vice-president; C. M. Bingham, vice-president; F. J. Niver, cashier and A. N. Otis, assistant cashier.

Miss Mary Barron, who had been the guest for about a week of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blodgett at their winter home on South Ridgewood avenue, departed this morning for Stanton, Va., where she is teaching in the State Deaf and Dumb Institute.

Pres. Wilson Sends Communication Explaining His Note

(The Associated Press.)

DENY AUTHORITY ASKED TO CALL GENERAL STRIKE

(The Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—Warren G. Stone and W. G. Lee, heads of two railroad brotherhoods here, denied that circulars had been issued asking for the renewal of authority to call a general strike as a result of the failure to agree with the railroads on the operation of the Adamson law. They declare that no circular has been prepared.

TWELVE AEROPLANES FLY FROM HEMPSTEAD TO PHILA

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—The information that President Wilson several days ago sent a second note explaining the first note to all belligerents has been withheld here, it is said, because the German government had not misconstrued the "purpose and aims" of the president's first communication.

Lansing Refuses to Comment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Secretary Lansing refused to comment on the report that a second explanatory note had been sent to belligerents to correct possible misinterpretations of the note calling for peace terms. He refused to indicate whether he thought the report might have arisen out of sending abroad Lansing's statement regarding the note.
Other officials said they were sure the Berlin dispatch referred to the statements Secretary Lansing issued the day after the original note was made public.

ADMINISTRATION MAKES KNOWN IMPORTANT POINTS

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The American government believes that the three principal points in the note to belligerents were: Fear that the position of neutrals would be "rendered altogether intolerable" if the war continued; the suggestion that arrangements be made as a guarantee against future conflicts, and the proposal that means be found for comparing concrete peace terms of both sides. This was learned today. The administration believed that the second point would furnish the means whereby the entente could with propriety discuss peace.

GERMANY CLAIMS STEADY PROGRESS

(The Associated Press.)

The Russians and Rumanians are fighting in a heavy rear guard action as they retire toward the Sereth line in Northeastern Wallachia and Southern Moldavia.
The German war office claims steady progress for the Teutonic forces along the entire front between the Rumanian Carpathians and the Danube.
Along the Moldavian frontier the Teutons have taken the Entente positions, capturing 660 prisoners.
Operations on the Franco-Belgian front are confined to small movements in the region of Verdun. Berlin announces the repulse of several French attacks.

PASSPORT REGULATIONS HELP ENGLISH POLICE

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

LONDON, Dec. 12.—One of the effects of the enforcement by the United States of more stringent passport regulations, is that there are no further extradition cases of Americans from England.
During many years before the war there were a substantial number of such cases, so many that dealing with them constituted an important division of the "ok" of officials at the embassy. So well have the new regulations governing the issuing of passports served the cause of justice that during the current year there has not been a single case of an American criminal or suspect being arraigned at Bow Street police court for extradition.

WILBUR BY THE SEA

WILBUR-BY-THE-SEA, Dec. 30.—A very delightful bridge party was given at the Toronita hotel Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. J. W. Wilbur and her charming daughter Miss Ruth Wilbur. Mrs. B. E. Emmons made the highest score, and the second prize was awarded to Mrs. Joseph T. Hughes, both Mrs. and Miss Wilbur were presented with handsome paintings by Miss Emmons who is an artist of note. During the afternoon Miss Ruth Wilbur rendered selections on the harp, and there were vocal selections by Miss Mary Piper. Delightful refreshments were served by Miss Piper and a very delightful afternoon was spent.

The guests at the Toronita hotel are forming a glee club, and when the new guests who have engaged reservations arrive they expect to have a talented group of musicians, many of whom are graduates of the New England conservatory of music at Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eaton, who have pretty winter homes at Wilbur-by-the-Sea, will arrive Saturday and their arrival is being looked forward to by their many friends. Messrs. Carr and Eaton are directors of the J. W. Wilbur Land company, incorporated.

Mrs. B. E. Emmons, who is occupying the Davis bungalow on Riverside drive, has painted many water colors, which she is presenting to her many friends who prize them very highly, as they are considered fine works of art. Mr. and Mrs. Emmons previously spent their winters in California, but like Florida much better, and they selected Wilbur-by-the-Sea on account of the natural beauties it affords.

Among the prominent transient guests registered at the Toronita hotel was Governor Nat E. Harris, of Atlanta, Ga., who was elected shortly after the conviction of Leo Frank.

Joseph T. Hughes, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who is manager of the Ames Shovel and Tool company, will leave on a short business trip, but Mrs. Hughes and their three sons will spend the winter here. Mr. Hughes had intended to spend the season at Miami, but on visiting Wilbur-by-the-Sea was so delighted with this pretty spot that he rented a bungalow for the season and will be joined later by a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bagshaw, of Lowell, Mass., will arrive shortly. Mr. Bagshaw is president of the Bagshaw Machinery company and manufactures nearly all the needles used on photographs in the United States.

Asbestos.
Most of us know little more of asbestos, the strange rock fiber that is almost as soft and pliable as cotton or woolen fabric, than that it is used in making fireproof theater curtains. In other ways it is fast coming into use as a "safety-first" building material. Not only does it protect against fire, says the Youth's Companion, but it is also a nonconductor of heat, and is therefore useful in preserving an even temperature. Most of what we use in this country comes from Canada, but Arizona is now beginning to produce asbestos of excellent quality.

TO HAVE INTEREST IN TEA AND COFFEE CO.

Charles L. Wagner, of Fonda, N. Y., who purchased the business in this city of the Every Hour Tea and Coffee company and came to Daytona with his family the forepart of this month, has so built up the business in the short time he has been here that he finds it necessary to have assistance and with this in view is looking forward to the arrival some time next week of his uncle, Charles J. Lumley, of Fort Plain, N. Y., who will be associated with him in the business. Mr. Lumley, who was in Daytona for some time last winter, and made many friends at that time, will take charge of the indoor part of the business which will permit Mr. Wagner to devote his time to outside interests of the company and still further increase and extend the business.

Nails First Made by Hand.
In northern Europe, Britain and America nails were made at first by forging on an anvil. The iron used for hand nail-making was first formed into nail-logs, which were sold in bundles. The nail-logs were prepared either by rolling the malleable thickness or by the much more common practice of cutting plate iron into strips by means of rolling shears. In Colonial days the making of nails from these rods was a household industry among the New England farmers.

FAMOUS STAR HAS LARGE WARDROBE IN "COMBAT"

There is no player on the screen today who wears gowns more effectively than Anita Stewart who has been called "America's daintiest actress." In "The Combat," the Blue Ribbon feature released by the Vitaphone company and which is the headliner at the Crystal theatre on New Year's, Miss Stewart wears a series of charming gowns.

When she first makes her appearance she is dressed in a bright sport costume. The short full skirt is made from a scarlet striped material, while the silk sweater is also of a brilliant hue.

The dance frock which she wears at her debut bespeaks of gay Paree. Fashioned with a short full skirt of flesh color chiffon it is trimmed with a series of bands of the same color taffeta. These bands encircle the low cut waist as well as the skirt and a large crushed band forms the high girdle.

An opera cloak which dainty Anita also wears is of black taffeta with a large white fox collar. This outer garment covers a beautiful evening gown of white spangles.

Her negligees, too are lovely. One wrap which she wears in the seclusion of her dainty boudoir is a delicate yellow crepe de chine with a large collar, forming a panel down the back of old lace. The morning cap which she wears with this negligee is fashioned of pastel shaded silk flowers encircling the ruffle.

Virginia Norden who plays the role of Miss Stewart's mother, also wears a number of attractive costumes. One evening gown which she wears is made from a deep blue chiffon with long streamers of blue spangles falling from a wide girdle.

A beautiful coat which is worn is a deep grey chiffon broadcloth with a high collar of squirrel and deep cuffs and a band about the bottom to correspond. With this coat Miss Stewart carries a round muff and wears a little turban hat of rose, trimmed with flowers of satin about the crown.

As the wife of the governor, the gowns which this popular little miss wears are extremely beautiful. One in particular is made with a black chiffon skirt formed by a series of ruffles and large puffs over the hips of black satin. The waist is black chiffon over silver lace, cut very low. Another dress is a rose crepe de chine with old gold lace and trimmed with fur while all the walking suits and afternoon frocks are wonderfully becoming to this favorite star of filmdom.

"SECRET OF THE NIGHT"—AT ARCADE

The Essanay presents the "Secret of the Night," a $500,000 production with an all-star cast. Sydney Alinsworth, Lillian Drew and John Lorenz in three acts. This production was directed by E. H. Calvert one of the best directors in this country.

A comedy featuring the famous comedy team, Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby, in "The Connecting Bath."

This is a scream from start to finish.

"THE VICTORIA CROSS" AT THE NEW DAYTONA NEW YEAR'S
The incidents in this play are mainly historical. In 1857 native regiments stirred to revolt by scheming rulers and religious fanatics, shocked the world by "The Indian Mutiny."

Ralph Seton, a young English officer with a brilliant record, has been thrown into the decadent life of the Maharatta's court at Cawnpore. He receives a letter from Sir Allan Stratton saying that he will soon visit Cawnpore, bringing with him the Victoria Cross which has been awarded Seton for heroism, and that he will also bring his daughter Joan, with whom Seton was in love in England. Seton, to be worthy of both the Cross and the girl, decides to reform.

Azimoolah, a native officer and conspirator, invites the assistance of the Princess Adala to recover the throne from the English, and she reluctantly agrees to entice the young English officer to her home the night of the uprising. In answer to her note Seton accepts her invitation, and in a drunken moment, invites the officer to accompany him. Joan and her father arrive at Seton's bungalow and are somewhat puzzled at the evidences of a carouse. They are taken to the palace and Azimoolah cleverly warns the princess in time for the soldiers to escape, all except Seton whom she hides. Joan, however, knows someone is there and is heartbroken when she recognizes the man whom she considered a great and perfect hero. Considering him unworthy of the cross, Sir Allan strongly denounces Seton who gradually sinks lower and lower, is court-martialed and reduced in rank. Joan has turned against him. To save him, Adala persuades Seton to don a native costume. Joan has been taken by Azimoolah's men and under threat of death ordered to write a request that her father's troops be withdrawn from Northern India. She refuses, and the Seereek, desiring rather to possess her than have her punished, commands her brought before him dressed as a native girl. She escapes and comes upon Seton dining with Adala; her expressed contempt arouses him to the real situation. On a pretense that she is his prisoner, Seton attempts to reach the barracks with Joan. The deception is discovered and a long siege of hardships follows. Seton gives Joan the cross just as they are taken out for sentence. Seton is shot—Joan to be massacred. Seton's executioner is overpowered—the news taken to Stratballan who arrives at the crucial moment, and gives his daughter to Seton, who he declares has redeemed himself. Joan pins the cross on her lover's breast as he takes her in his arms. "The Victoria Cross" will be shown at the New Daytona theatre Monday.

A DISTINGUISHED CAST IN "THE FALL OF A NATION"
In booking "The Fall of a Nation" at the New Daytona theatre on January 9th and 10th Manager Titus has been careful to select an acting piece of great merit as well as a lavishly staged spectacle. There are four roles of capital importance, and they are entrusted to Arthur Shirley, Lorraine Huling, Percy Standing and Flora MacDonald.

Mr. Shirley, who plays the heroic part of John Vassar, is a fine actor of Australian antecedents and great American success at the motion picture colony of Los Angeles. Opposite him in the equally important part of Virginia Holland, the heroine, is Miss Lorraine Huling. Miss Huling is a golden-haired beauty who made her New York debut in "Prunella" under Winton Ames. Her subsequent success on the screen in "The Fall of a Nation" has caused a lively scramble

Percy Standing is a scion of the well-known theatrical family of Standings. His sinister style lends itself admirably to the dark plottings of Karl von Waldron, the enemy of American liberties.

As for Miss Flora MacDonald, she is undoubtedly the greatest emotional actress that the "silent drama" has disclosed in many a day. Her depiction of Angela Benda, the Italian girl-mother and cavalry messenger of the Daughters of Jael, was praised to the skies by the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles critics.

Probably Was.

A North of Ireland orator in a Scottish county constituency sought to ingratiate himself with his audience at the outset thus: "Gentlemen, I am an Irishman. I am proud to be an Irishman, but I am not ashamed to admit that I have a drop of Scotch in me." And for fully a minute he could not understand what the uproar was about.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The First Congregational church on the corner of Volusia and Palmetto avenue will hold services tomorrow as follows:

Sunday school will be held at 9:45 in the morning. Officers and teachers of the school hope to finish the old year with a good attendance in the class groups for all ages.

The young people's society meets at 6:45 in the evening and invites everyone to its service of devotion and fellowship.

Morning church service at 11:00 with appropriate choir music and an old year and new year sermon by the minister, Rev. William J. Drew. A special musical service will commence at 7:30. The splendid music given on Christmas Sunday will be included in this sacred concert. A cordial invitation and welcome will be given to all.

LOBSTER SALAD GOURMET.—For four persons, take two lobsters and cut into square pieces; mix thoroughly with chopped celery and mayonnaise. Decorate around the edge with circles, or rather with disks of sliced eggs and thin slices of lobster alternately. Place on top a core and halved olive filled with capers. Do not serve on lettuce leaves.

Crab Meat Regalla.—Mix the crab meat with mayonnaise and chopped shallots; decorate with the yolks of eggs which have been pressed through a sieve. This covers the entire top of the salad, hiding the mayonnaise. Form a border of chopped parsley and put the parsley over the egg in four broad dividing lines; between the lines dot a space with the chopped whites of eggs and place on top of them a few specks of chopped pimientos. With all this decoration the mayonnaise is hidden.

Herring Salade Francillon.—This salad also is not served on lettuce. For it take potatoes, herring, beets, apples, gherkins and capers and cut all into small pieces. Mix all together and season with French dressing and a pinch of cayenne pepper. Decorate with beets and apples which have been cut into half moon shape, also gherkins, chopped, and diced beets, top with half a core olive filled with capers.

Salade Norvegian.—For this take julienne of beets, anchovy, potatoes and watercress. Season with French dressing. Arrange each item of the salad (the beets, anchovy and potatoes) in a separate mound placed in a close row. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Fresh Fruit Salad Tropical (Salade des Fruits, Tropical).—Take a small heart of lettuce and remove the middle part; fill it with fresh fruits in season, orange from which all skin and pulp have been removed, grapefruit freed from skin and pulp and diced pineapple. Decorate with raspberries, split blackberries, red maraschino cherries, split, and green maraschino cherries cut en julienne. Season with French dressing.

Martinique Salad.—Hearts of lettuce served whole with center removed and filled instead with apples and julienne celery. Decorate with red peppers cut en julienne and chopped walnuts served on the side in a lettuce leaf. French dressing.

THE WEATHER

FOR FLORIDA: Generally fair tonight and Sunday. Gentle to moderate northeast winds.

High pressure occupies practically all districts of the country, preceded by rain on the south Atlantic and gulf coasts, which continued along the immediate gulf coast line at 7 a. m.
Somewhat colder weather prevails north and south of the Ohio river, but higher temperatures took place in Texas northward over the plains states. The temperature is 10 degrees to 15 degrees below zero over the northwest. The winds are moderate northerly on the lower coasts. Conditions favor generally fair weather
tonight and Sunday.

FIFTY DOLLARS IS ALL IT COSTS IF YOU WISH TO SPEED

In the police court before Judge
H. T. Titus this morning another speeder received the full limit of fine allowed by law. Geo. K. Knight, proprietor of the Sanitary Bakery, Daytona Beach, was given a choice between a 30-day term on Daytona streets, or paying a fine of $50 and one dollar costs. He paid the fine.
It is the intention of Judge Titus to stop autos from exceeding the speed limit on Daytona streets by fining to the full limit every one guilty of this misdemeanor. This case is the second speeder who has paid out $50
for his pleasure during the past week.

Danish and Swedish Flags.
The flags of all the three Scandinavian kingdoms are somewhat similar in design. Of the Danish flag the legend runs that King Waldemar of Denmark, leading his troops to battle in 1219, saw at a critical moment a cross in the sky. This was at once taken as an answer to his prayers and an assurance of celestial aid. It was forthwith adopted as the Danish flag and called the "Danebrog," that is, the strength of Denmark. Apart from all legend this flag undoubtedly dates from the thirteenth century, and is therefore the oldest now in existence.
It consists of a white cross on a red ground, the naval flag being swallow-tailed, and the mercantile marine flag rectangular. The Swedish flag is a yellow cross on a blue ground. When flown from a man-of-war it is forked as in the Danish, but the longer arm of the cross is not cut off but pointed, making a three-pointed flag. For the mercantile marine the flag is rectangular.

LIGHTNING RESULTS FROM DAILY NEWS ADVERTISEMENTS

Another illustration of the value of Daily News advertising and its quick returns was the results obtained by McCoy Brothers of Holly Hill through a few lines inserted in the paper yesterday afternoon, advertising rockers and life preservers at attractive prices.
Thos. H. Ferguson of 67 First avenue says that in answer to the advertisement he called upon McCoy Brothers at about 7:00 o'clock in the evening and secured several of the chairs and that before he got away there were two automobile parties present who had been attracted by the advertisement.

JAPAN SHOWS GREAT POPULATION INCREASE

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

TOKIO, Nov. 30.—A total estimated population of 77,289,596 in Japan, Korea and Formosa and the Japanese half of Saghalien Island, is announced officially.
This shows an increase of 1,670,835 over the estimate of a year ago. The increase for the last year in Japan proper was 881,343, or an average increase per 100 inhabitants of 1.60 per cent, the same percentage of increase which has prevailed for the past four years.

The population of Korea or Chosen leaped from 16,804,013 to 17,519,864, an increase of 715,851 or 4.26 per cent.

VALUABLE LOG
STILL ON BEACH?

SETTLERS WONDER WHETHER MAHOGANY TIMBER WHICH WAS WASHED ASHORE, STILL LIES BURIED IN THE SAND.

Ten or fifteen years ago, when Daytona Beach had only a score of houses and about fifty inhabitants, one of its residents brought ashore a mahogany log about 10 feet long and four by two feet thick. This valuable log was washed up on the beach a few hundred feet north of the present pier.

Realizing its value, several men tried to haul it along the beach and to the Seabreeze avenue approach, but it was not then hard-surfaced. It was brought as far as the approach to the hard beach but even a heavy team was unable to carry it. Though the deep sand up to Seabreeze avenue. The men finally abandoned the idea of saving the log and it was allowed to remain near the approach. For years the log stayed in one place and owing to its great weight, it was not moved by the highest water. It gradually became covered by sand and a storm built up to the beach to its present height. Old settlers here remember how, for a long time people used the log as a seat when they went down to watch the ocean. Just a few are left who remember the old timber, long buried in the sand, but these few believe that it has never been washed away.

The log weighed several hundred pounds and is worth many dollars. If it is still near the approach it should not be a hard task to ascertain its exact location. It can not be buried more than five or six feet in the sand and, being of mahogany, is surely not decayed. Who will go digging to see if the log is still there?

SERVICES OF SEABREEZE

TOURIST UNION CHURCH
The Tourist Union church on the corner of Glenview boulevard and Peninsula drive, Seabreeze, will hold its New Year service at 11 Sunday morning, with the New Year's sermon by Rev. Charles Frederick Goss. The New Year's music will include a beautiful soprano solo by Mrs. W. R. Wharton, who is a winter resident of Halifax avenue, Seabreeze.

MARSHALL PARK APPROACH

CLOSED FOR A FEW DAYS
The approach to the ocean beach from Marshall Park was closed yesterday by order of the street committee of the local council. Repairs will be made for the next few days and the approach will be opened again on Tuesday of the coming week.

Perpetual Subject.
"Do you feel that, with your unfortunate habit, you can do the slightest thing to make anybody happier?" "Well," said Bill Bottletop, pensively, "whenever a man comes along wanting somebody to swear off he knows he kin always depend on me."

SEABREEZE

D. McCarty, who is spending the winter at the Livingston cottage on Ocean avenue above the Neptune hotel, has recently purchased a new automobile the use of which he is now enjoying.

Dr. E. H. Meinhardt, of New Smyrna, recently came up from that place to spend the winter at the Mayfield on Atlantic avenue near the Hotel Clarendon. He will have an office for practice on Beach street, Daytona.

W. H. Smith, of New Smyrna, is now enjoying a pleasant stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson, the Mayfield, on Atlantic avenue.

DAYTONA BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund G. Vaughan of New Rochelle, N. Y., will arrive this afternoon from Jacksonville to occupy the J. D. Maley home on Silver Beach avenue for the winter season. They arrived from Boston Friday night on the Merchant and Miners boat and decided to spend a day in the state metropolis.

Mrs. M. L. Gardiner, Misses Lillian and Elsie, and Master James Gardiner, arrived Friday afternoon from Groton, N. Y., to spend the winter at the Gardiner home on Vermont avenue, Marshall park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Loring and Mrs. Loring's sister, Mrs. Gray, came in early in the week to spend a second winter at the beach. They are located at the Fairview apartments on Coates street. These people lived in the Sweeney apartments on Coates street, last winter and made many friends during their stay. They have been enjoying the summer in their northern home, Worcester, Mass., and spent the first two weeks after coming south in St. Petersburg, but decided that they liked the East Coast best.

Alfred S. Strother will leave next Monday on his return to the Georgia State School of Technology, to complete his fifth and last year, before obtaining his bachelor of science and mechanical engineering degree. He has been visiting for about ten days at his home on Seabreeze avenue, Daytona Beach.

Poets' Praise of Ale.

More poets have been inspired in modern times by Brassenose ale, brewed at Brassenose college, Oxford, than by any other malt liquor of recent memory. At one time it was a custom for the college butler on every Tuesday to present a collection of ale-praising verse to the principal and receive a sum of money. Several of these outpourings, the writing of undergraduates, have appeared in book form.

MRS. G. H. COWELL
MEETS DEATH IN
AUTO ACCIDENT

LOOSE PLANK IN BRIDGE NEAR HASTINGS CAUSES INJURIES RESULTING IN DEMISE OF LADY ON WAY TO BEACH.

Mrs. G. H. Cowell, of Waterbury, Conn., a visitor to the beach and Seaside Inn for several years, died at a St. Augustine hospital last night from serious injuries, yesterday afternoon, sustained in an auto accident near Hastings, while she was on the way from Jacksonville to Daytona Beach to stay for the winter, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Jeanette Cowell.

The accident took place while the car was crossing a small wooden bridge on the road near Hastings and was caused by a loose board, the end of which flew up and pierced the bottom of the car, severely injuring Mrs. Cowell. Medical aid was obtained as soon as possible and she was immediately hurried to St. Augustine, where all attention proved to be of no avail, Mrs. Cowell passing away within a few hours.

The late Mrs. Cowell and daughter, Miss Jeanette, have been coming to Daytona Beach for several years and are well-known as pleasant guests at the Seaside Inn and Ocean avenues. They numbered scores of friends in Daytona and vicinity, all of whom feel the full shock of the deplorable occurrence.

Miss Cowell will leave St. Augustine this afternoon to accompany the body of her mother to her northern home for interment.

Mrs. Hep's Sayings.

"Men is jes like babies in a lotta ways," observed Mrs. Jonathan Hep as she collected cigar ashes, "an' you don't never want to punish 'em before you finds out whether they is actin' up be'uz they's mad or jes' becuz they is hungry or some'n is hurtin' 'em."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

It Would Be Overlooked.

"I am a graduate of Yalevard and I can speak five languages," said the young man applying for a job. "Well," said the old man, kindly, "that wouldn't be any objection if we needed anybody now."—Somerville Journal.

WINTER RESIDENTS ARRIVE

FROM HOME IN MILWAUKEE

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schlesinger and family arrived Friday afternoon to spend another pleasant winter at their usual place of residence, the large Clarendon cottage on the corner of Ocean boulevard and Grandview avenue. The Schlesingers have spent the past three or four seasons in Seabreeze, are lovers of tennis and are often seen among the players on the Clarendon courts.

They will return to their Milwaukee home about January 18 to attend the wedding of Mr. Schlesinger's brother, Harry Schlesinger.

MISS SCHMADEKE ENTER- TAIN NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

Thursday evening, the members of the Neighborhood club which gathered at the home of the Misses Schmadeke for their meeting which had been postponed from its regular night, were delightedly surprised by an invitation to spend their evening on the magnificent Schmadeke yacht, the Owaisa, which is tied at the Halifax River Yacht Club dock. The card tables were arranged in the beautifully decorated main salon of the boat and games were enjoyed until a late hour. When scores were compared Mrs. Geo. Foote, Jr., was found to have the highest tally and was accordingly awarded a dainty prize.

Refreshments were then served to the guests after which all departed for their respective homes.

The next meeting of the Neighborhood club will take place at the Magnolia, on Ridgewood avenue, with Miss Lee Bowers. The exact night has not been definitely settled.

DAYTONA BEACH COUNCIL

MEETS IN SPECIAL SESSION

The Daytona Beach town council held a short business meeting at the town hall on Harvey street last night. Little business of interest was transacted.

A number of bills for supplies and labor were approved and ordered paid. Three building permits were granted to L. Z. Burdick, contractor for W. W. Marshall for the erection of three cottages valued respectively at $2,500, $1,500 and $1,600.

Some time was spent in general discussion of town affairs after which the meeting came to an end.

A New Year's Meditation

THE earth was brown and bare and cold.

Another year had swiftly rolled
Its twelve months round, and as its life went out it seemed

To bring to mind all the fond hopes
That man had dreamed,
Which in the waking never were fulfilled,

Every disappointment that had chilled
A single heart, every broken vow
Each day had known, and now

The year was going, with bowed and heavy head.
The whole earth sad
And nature, too, seemed dead.

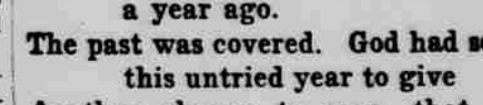

The heavens looked with pity on the earth below
And to hide its desolation sent the snow.

All that long night the soft white flakes were whirled,
And when the morning came their innocence and purity had clothed the world.

A bright New Year had dawned, which did not know
The sin and sadness that had come a year ago.

The past was covered. God had sent this untired year to give Another chance to man, that he might wake and hope and live.

—Outlook.

New Year's Calls

PERHAPS the only distinct Dutch custom that afterward came into widespread use in the United States, though now discontinued, was the New Year's calls of the gentlemen on their lady friends.

The main thing to be accomplished on New Year's day was a certain number of calls made on one hand and a certain number received on the other. That being the game, why not play it and compare notes? So the young man who came in and said: "Happy New Year! Lovely day, isn't it? Yes, this is my twenty-fifth call. Jack Bulard and I are going to make fifty. Thanks, I believe I will; I remember your lemonade. Goodbye. Happy New Year!" seemed to live up to the requirements of the day.

Grandmother had pronounced views as to the morality of serving anything of an intoxicating nature on New Year's day. As she said, "It would not matter if ours were the only house visited, but when a man sets out to call on fifty people and takes a little wine at each house he is none the better for it, and, besides, it is a poor example for young men and a bad beginning for the new year."—Charles Battell Loomis.

The Best Gift of All.
Of all the gifts that come to cheer
The best one is a brand new year.
Snow wrapped and holly decked it comes
To richest and to poorest homes.

Twelve jeweled months all set with days
Of priceless opportunities.
A silver moon and a golden sun,
With diamond stars when the day is done.

And over all a sapphire sky.
Where pearly clouds go floating by.
Joy to you for the year that brings
So many and such precious things.

Who Would Scorn a Gown Like This?

From the Pitha Florence Ross Fashion Film.

THIS is the halcyon day of the dress. Combined with the top-coat, it has succeeded in ousting the beloved tailored suit from the first place in the affections of the American woman, at least temporarily. There are too many pros and cons in the question to permit of discussion here, but all of us will agree that their charm has much to do with their popularity. What woman wouldn't delight in owning the original of the frock shown in the photograph? This model is a clever combination of georgette crepe in the practical and becoming tempo coloring, with velvet in the same shade. The skirt is full, but hangs in the much desired straight lines, broken only by the irregular banding of the velvet. The glister of old gold thread embroidery gives a dressy air to the bodice, and there is a deep cape collar with more of this embroidery. The sleeves of the crepe are transparent, which in our steam heated apartments is more comfortable than the sleeves of heavier fabrics, and have, too, their touch of the gold embroidery. The hat has an upstanding ruche to give it the desired height and a breast of iridescent feathers to brighten it. And the bag of black velvet sparkles with beads of many colors.

Christmas Decorations and Music Characterize Friday Morning Musicales

Christmas decorations and Christmas music characterized the regular Friday morning musicale on December 23rd. The Palmetto club had been beautified for the occasion with Christmas greenery and bells and the program was in harmony with the holiday season. Mrs. Celeste Hinks was the leader for the day, and she was most ably assisted by the quartette choir of St. Mary's Episcopal church, composed of Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Hitchcock, W. J. McDonald and R. L. Evernden, and by M. P. Cornwall, whose accompaniments and other incidental music were up to his usual high standard of excellence. Mrs. Hinks' subject, "The Origin and Use of Early Carols in Copmarison with American Christmas Music," was treated as a story of absorbing interest, illustrating each phase in its development by music of the epoch. These musical selections were given by the Episcopal choir with splendid effect, testifying to their untiring efforts in preparing a program of music so varied and unusual.

The history of the Christmas carol was traced from the early music used in the Hebrew temple services, two thousand years ago, down through the religious music of the Greeks and their hymns in honor of the victor at Olympic games, undoubtedly the nearest approach to a carol. The Greeks sang merely human honors, and their civilization passed away about 100 years before the nativity, which was the inspiration of the true carol. With the coming of Christ a new influence arose from the ashes of the past, a new grace to spiritualize the world.

The winter solstice has been celebrated by many peoples in all ages as a time of festivity and praise: Persians, Chinese, Athenians and Druids observing it with various ceremonials, usually including music. Hymns of joyous exultation were known before the Christian era, the Delphic hymn to Apollo, (B. C. 280) one of the earliest examples. A later hymn of German origin, closely allied to carols is that well-known and exquisite gem "Holy Night."

That carols have been in use ever since the fifth century is known from the writings of St. Patrick, Gregory the First, who collected and arranged the complete musical ritual of the Catholic church, and St. Chrysostom, who tells of the first acceptance of December 25th as the festival day of Christmas.

The English carol originated in the peasant kitchen and was sung from house to house; so it loses much of its simple charm when transplanted to church or house.

John Dunstable is known as the father of English music and wrote many touching lullabies. Examples of the earlier carols were given: "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen," "The Cherry Tree Carol," and "What Child Is This?" A Noel of the eleventh century was also given, its quaint beauty pleasing all who listened.

During the 15th and 16th centuries masques and pageants were the popular Yuletide diversions. Henry the Eighth himself taking part in them and composing music, which is still extant. The Lord of Misrule was an institution that flourished during the 16th century. The rise and rapid development of the opera, oratorio and instrumental forms, and the carol was left behind in its rustic simplicity.

The influence of the nativity has come down through the ages, lending inspiration to art, literature and music; and in the new soil of America, development has been swift. The most perfect offering America has given to carols is our own W. H. Neidlinger's "Birthday of the King," which was sung most acceptably by the quartette.

Mrs. Hinks closed her splendid story of the carol by quoting the sacred words of the first Christmas music, heard by the Judean shepherds, 1200 years ago, as they watched their flocks by night: "Peace on Earth, Good-will Toward Men."

Previous to the regular program, announcements were made by Mrs. Hitchcock, chairman of the music department, of a breakfast, for members of the department only, on Wednesday, January third; and for Tuesday, January ninth, when a program of esthetic and interpretive dancing will be given, with Miss Post in charge.

1,000-Foot Tub of Stone.

The Big Bend country in Texas bordering on the Rio Grande, famous in frontier history as the rendezvous of scores of "bad men," has been mapped by the United States Geological Survey. The survey has made known some striking topographic features.

About 10 miles northwest of Terlingua is a circular area seven miles in diameter called Solitario. It is formed of huge, curved strata of lime rock standing nearly on edge and slanting inward like the staves of an inverted tub.

SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The first Sunday evening concert of the present season will be given at the Congregational church next Sunday, New Year's eve. The whole evening will be devoted to music and in addition to other selections the choir will reproduce the morning and evening Christmas musical program. These Sunday evening concerts at the Congregational church have always been a source of pleasure to music lovers and the usual delightful musical treat is in store for all who attend the concert Sunday evening.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST PARTY OF SEASON

Yesterday afternoon the Social committee of the Palmetto club held its first card party of the season at the club house on Orange avenue.

Miss Adelaide Young was in charge and had as capable assistants, Mrs. Arthur W. Blake, Mrs. M. P. Cornwall and Miss Bowers. These ladies provided a very enjoyable afternoon for their guests who, starting promptly at 2:30, filled nine tables playing auction and four playing five hundred. The game progressed in rows and to the holder of high score in each row were the prizes given. Mrs. J. T. Nelson and George Sheets carried off the honors in bridge, while Mrs. DeVillis had high score in five hundred.

Refreshments of coffee and home made cakes were served in the tea room at the conclusion of the games.

The Optimist
 Devoted to Cheering Up the
 "Land of Sunshine"
 (By Gene Jones.)

Two more heroes' names we mark with pleasure upon the honor roll. The first, Ex-president Charles Willson, of the Daytona Beach fire department, will ever be a curse to the whiskey dealers. He has resigned and is now marching side by side with the secretary, to the tune of "no more Scotch, no more Beer."

You see the Daytona Beach fire department held a meeting—a business meeting this time—for the purpose, supposedly, of asking the president to resign because, like a few other unreasonable persons, he didn't approve of reciprocity between the beer trust and the department.

After a vote of those present, it developed Mr. Willson did not have to resign, but strange as it may seem, Mr. Willson did. Now we know why the president spells his name with two L's: to prevent careless individuals from mixing it up with the brand of a popular whiskey.

Of course we don't want to seem inquisitive or suspicious but why should the Daytona Beach Fire department have passed a final motion making all meetings in the future, secret? We wonder what would happen if a big blaze should occur during one of those "secret" meetings? Summing the matter in a nut-shell, Mr. Willson is a hero well deserving a "bust" in the hall of Flame.

Now we come to the second hero, Commissioner A. McF. Porter. We discovered quite accidentally that he was a hero. We were rumaging about the Daytona Fire department and found the following letter posted on the bulletin board.

"Daytona, Fla., Dec. 23rd.—W. E. French, Chief, Dear Sir: You and all the employees of the city in your department are requested not to have used on or about the city buildings any whiskey or other liquors.
 "Very truly yours, A. McF. Porter, commissioner."

That's the correct dope; Coca-cola or nothing! There's no reason to mix pleasure and business. Fire and fire-water are two entirely different propositions. There's only one suggestion we wish to make to Mr. Porter. Why not have that notice framed and send it as a New Year's gift to the Daytona Beach department?

THE CALL OF THE HAMMOCK.
 I guess it's the breath of that hammock land,
 I guess it's the smell of the Florida loam;

There's nothing much there but the skeeters and sand
 Yet I love it like Mother and Home!

Tomoka, as brown as a jug of cold tea,
 Sweeping along full of 'gators and mud;
 Sweeping so calmly on to the sea—
 How I love that malarious flood!

When the sun crawls away, hot, sullen and red,
 Leaving the clouds all daubed up with paint,
 And folks in the country are going to bed;
 You may figure it's night but it ain't!

There's a time when the cypress are flinging their arms,
 Like stark-mad ghosts of the place below,
 Against a sky with its rainbow charms,
 It's the time of the tropical after-glow.

When the stink of the earth, black, boggy, unfit,
 Hangs on the swamp like a poisoned pall,
 Chilling your nostrils—you mind not a bit;
 Oh Lord, How I love it all!

I've seen strange sights 'neath the Florida moon,
 Hid in the Everglades' fold;
 I could whisper you tales of the things that croon,
 'Till your blood ran icy cold.

There are roads by the score you can follow all day,
 Tracing the hammock's maze;
 There are wonderful spots where queer things play,
 Unfit for the human gaze.

But give me a rod and give me a gun,
 And turn me loose in the sand;
 I'll pass up the girls and pass up the moon,
 For a month in the hammock land.

FRENCH ARMIES FIND TIME FOR FARMING

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

PARIS, Dec. 20.—The Bulletin des Armees, official newspaper of the trench, says 735 acres were farmed last autumn and spring of this year by one army corps. At this end is in the region of the Meuse in the immediate vicinity of the Germans. Oats, barley, potatoes and vegetables were grown, and besides 225 acres were worked for hay and preparations were made at the time the army corps were replaced to cut the grass on 175 acres remaining.

Farm material was made up of what had been abandoned in the communes. Every day without cessation there were put into service 30 plows, 24 harrows, 12 rollers, 18 cultivators, and 40 vehicles of all kinds for carrying fertilized.

Realized It Would Be Close.
 The moment the razor touched his face, the man in the chair realized that he was in the hands of an amateur. "Will you have a close shave, sir?" asked the barber. "It looks like it," returned the victim, moodily. "At present the odds against my getting out of this chair alive seem very heavy, indeed."—Boston Transcript.

PROTECTION
 Against Burglary
 Against Fire
 Against Decay

Once your house is properly painted it is insured against decay. Decay is just as destructive as fire.
 Paint, to serve its real purpose, must protect—a pleasing effect is only a by-product. Buy your house paint with this thought in mind, then you will think about quality as well as color.

SWP
 (Sherwin-Williams House Paint)
 has in it the staying, weather-resisting properties that give a house protection. It has wonderful covering power, it holds its color and it everlastingly sticks to its job. It is real insurance. It insures protection from the elements; it insures value in your property; it insures beauty and distinction.
 There is a special Sherwin-Williams product for every surface around the home—Mar-nut for floors, Flat-Tone for walls, Porch and Deck Paint for outside floors, etc. Tell us what you want to paint and we will sell you the best for your purpose.

ENTERTAINED PLEASANTLY WITH INFORMAL DANCE

The Misses Dora and Norma Williams entertained with a delightful informal dance at the Williams hotel last evening. About 50 of Daytona's younger set, many of whom are home from college for the Christmas holidays, were present. Christmas greens and palms were attractively used in decorating the large reception rooms. Punch was served at intervals, and a delicious ice course was served late in the evening.

A pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment was a series of interpretative and esthetic dances by Miss Merriam Lutz. Miss Lutz is a graduate of the Calk School of Dancing, New York city, and quite captivated her fellow guests with her interpretations. She was admirably accompanied at the piano by Miss Dora Williams.

A VISITOR SUGGESTS DONATION RECEIPT AT CASINO BURGONE

THINKS MANY ATTENDING THE CONCERTS AND DANCES WOULD PREFER OPPORTUNITY TO CON-TRIBUTE SOMETHING.

Mrs. E. M. Hauser, whose home is in Philadelphia, but who has been last four winters in Florida, is spending a week or so in Daytona, looking up real estate values. Mrs. Hauser is much impressed with many things seen, so far, during her brief stay in the city and on the peninsula.

She has traveled extensively over the country, being familiar with the attractions of every city of any importance in the United States, except in the New England resorts. She fully appreciates the wonderful beach and is, like everyone else, most enthusiastic over its glorious charms. In speaking of the Casino Burgone and the concerts, Mrs. Hauser, herself a musician and lover of good music, said: "Do you know, I think it is perfectly wonderful what you people are doing. I listened to your concert yesterday afternoon and I was astonished to hear such music. I have attended many a high-priced concert and heard music not so good as you give your visitors free. The beautiful casino of course is the donation of a generous citizen of wealth in money and public spirit, but the employment of such artists as are playing at these day and evening concerts of yours costs a very great deal of money and personally I would have been glad had I been able to have contributed something toward it."

"Really, as I sat there greatly enjoying that delightful concert, I felt that I was receiving much for nothing and would have felt more comfortable if I could have paid in some way for my pleasure. If there could have been a receptacle of some kind into which I could have dropped a contribution I would have felt better, and so, I fancy, would the great majority of your visitors."

Mrs. Hauser referred to St. Petersburg, with which she is familiar, saying that "we have free band concerts over there and nice concerts, too, but we have what is called 'The Mole,' where the band plays twice each week and there is dancing, but an admission of five cents is charged and a like amount for dancing, but nowhere in America have I ever heard such music, with such environments, free of charge, as you have in Daytona. I spent much time in California and there is nothing like it out there."

The suggestion offered by Mrs. Hauser in regard to the placing in the casino of a receptacle of some kind in which donations might be dropped by visitors who feel as she does in regard to the entertainment they receive might be well to adopt. Several instances along this line have come to the attention of the News, indicating that Mrs. Hauser is correct in her surmise that her feeling in this matter is shared by many other visitors.

The Wings of Time

A NEW YEAR POEM

By Minna Irving

Copyright, 1916, by American Press Association

ALL day from windless skies of gray
Fell feathery flakes of white,
Like bits of swansdown shaken down
From pinions out of sight
Until upon the loom of night
The dusk began to weave
The Old Year's sable velvet pall,
For it was New Year's eve.

AT midnight, when the joyous bells
Rang out from town to town,
The radiant silver moon between
The parted clouds looked down.
Beneath her pale and pearly sheen,
Lo, all terrestrial things
Lay covered with the downy snow,
The New Year's folded wings.

Standing on the threshold of another year I look forward to it with hope that it will be a most fortunate and happy one for the people of Daytona and tourists to Florida.

DR. W. F. DAVEY, Optometrist.

May the New Year bring to you
Much courage and great pluck!
May all your wishes soon come true,
And anyway—Good Luck!

More and More Americans Are Investigating Russia

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 22.—More and more the American business men appear to be investigating commercial possibilities in Russia. Every steamer from America brings steadily increasing numbers of them, and Americans are continually streaming in from Petrograd and Moscow with their pockets filled with contracts, or the proceeds of sales.

There is, however, a very considerable number who either go no farther than Stockholm or who reach their aims only after many weeks of weary waiting here. These are the men who neglected before shipping their goods to inform themselves of the conditions to be met, of routes, of things essential to the sale and delivery of goods in Russia.

A typical case is that of the representative of certain automobile firms in America, who came to Stockholm with some motor trucks intended for Russia, despite the fact that it is nearly two years since the Swedish parliament enacted a law refusing transit to motor vehicles in any and all circumstances. This law, enacted on January 9, 1915, prohibits absolutely and unequivocally the transit through Sweden to Russia of arms or parts thereof, ammunition, war material not specially mentioned, lead in all forms and motor vehicles of any kind.

The shipper of the motor trucks was inclined to reproach the British embassy in Washington for having issued to him letters of assurance on articles which could not be transmitted through Sweden. It may be that the men in the department of the embassy that issued these letters were not familiar with the Swedish law. Quite apart, however, from the question of whether they knew or should have given warning, American shippers should understand that letters of assurance are in no way a guaranty that the goods covered are wanted by or can enter Russia, or that they can Sweden.

Russia, in common with all other belligerent countries, has prohibited the importation of certain goods and closely restricted the importation of others. Generally speaking, all luxuries may not be brought into the empire.

The list of things wanted is subject to frequent alteration; conditions outside Russia may make it impossible at a given moment to send certain articles thither. At present, for instance, it appears impossible to get any coffee across Sweden. At least one big shipment from an American firm has been held up for months because the Swedish government demands, as a condition precedent to permitting it to be taken across the kingdom, that a third of the quantity be sold in Sweden.

en. The British government refuses to consent.

Another detail in which American shippers often appear uninformed is the matter of routes, which now, with the approach of winter, become important. German submarines have recently been harrying shipping in the Gulf of Bothnia to such an extent that it has been seriously restricted. The result has naturally been accumulation of goods in Swedish ports on the gulf. The freezing up of the Gulf of Bothnia, which may come now at any time, will close all water connection between Sweden and Finnish ports until next April. There will remain then only the overland route via Hamperanda and Tornes. This is a single-track road, both in Sweden and in Finland, there is anything but a surplus of locomotives and other rolling stock on the Swedish end, and the route's transportation facilities are in general so limited that delays of weeks and even months are possible in the case of goods not wanted with great urgency.

Archangel will soon be icebound, and in any event it is and has been of little importance for shippers desiring to avoid the Scandinavian route inasmuch as the transportation facilities there have hardly more than sufficed to handle government importations of materials needed for the conduct of the war. It is reported unofficially that the completion of androvsik may be expected soon, but the new railway from Mourna to Alextoo optimistic hopes must not be based on the report. Alexandrovsk is ice-free all winter.

CHANGES IN CAPTURED ALSATIAN TERRITORY

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN ALSACE, Dec. 12.—French has replaced Alsatian dialect and German as the language in that portion of Alsace restored to France as the result of French military successes. So soon as the blue-clad soldiers occupied the villages and towns German signs were torn down from the fronts of the stores and replaced by French. Fingerposts along the roads were altered and directions at grade crossings over the railroad tracks were changed. Restaurant bills of fare were written in French instead of German. The titles of public offices were painted over and new designations put in their places. Prices also were transformed into francs and centimes from marks and pfennigs.

Most of the municipal officials under German rule were of Prussian origin and fled with the German troops. The other male inhabitants—most of them very old or very young, as all those of military age had been either taken into the German army or had fled to France—had never had experience of local government and were incapable of undertaking the public utilities or caring for the health or sanitary condition of the people. It was found necessary to appoint French administrators and these were chosen from among officers who had been wounded in the war or who had fallen sick during the campaign. In one locality a military mayor was nominated. He was a captain who had lost his right arm in battle. For two years he has carried out the functions of his office and so successfully that the citizens governed by him declare they have never been more wisely ruled.

One of the first tasks undertaken was to set again in motion the educational system which had been interrupted by the hostilities. Classes were formed for the children of both sexes and these were placed in the charge of sisters of a religious order which devotes itself to education. There was some difficulty at first owing to the pupils knowing no other language than their local dialect. They showed such zeal, however, in acquiring French, that within a few weeks the teachers were able to carry on the lessons. When Prince Arthur of Connaught recently visited the classes he was amazed at the change brought about in so short a time.

French officials and the people of Alsace themselves ascribe the readiness of the Alsatis to adopt French ideas and education to the fact that they have in part realized their dream of being rejoined to France. At any rate, it is patent fact that, although they are still within sound of the German guns, everybody in the reconquered territory at present speaks French. The children at their games on the streets use nothing but French expressions. Workmen and workwomen going to and from the factories and while engaged there rarely—and then only in the case of elderly people who cannot change their lifelong habits—utter a word in anything except French. In the cafes and hotels and in the stores French is everywhere used, while in the churches the sermons are now preached in French.

Secret of Laughter.

“The secret of laughter is in the return to nature. Civilization and culture are late additions and we are living to a great extent in artificial conditions. Psychology makes plain the fact that our present mental equipment has been slowly and painfully acquired and a certain strain in maintaining that high altitude is inevitable. This tension is relieved by nonsense and by the portrayal in humorous anecdotes and on the stage of evasions of convention and infractions of the prevailing code of morals and manners.”

DR. CLIFFORD SATER

Dr. Clifford Sater of Cincinnati, who announces that he has isolated the cancer germ. He is shown in his laboratory experimenting on a rabbit.

COMPILING BOOK OF GERMAN WAR SAYINGS

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

LEIPZIG, Dec. 20.—The Leipzig museum is completing a collection of mottoes of the great German commanders, which is to be published shortly.

General von Stein, the new Prussian minister of war, gives as his motto: “It is more important than all else to bear quietly, to act in silence, and to help unselfishly.”

Admiral Scheer, commander of the high seas fleet, says: “The war aim of the German fleet is the freedom of the seas.”

Prince Henry of Prussia, wrote: “For the right people at the right time the right man in the right quarrel.”

General von Woyrsch says: “Germany invincible—that is my faith, firm as a rock.”

Von Bissing, Mackensen, von Beseler and many others quote scripture to the effect that they trust in God.

By No Means.

“No, Clara, outstripping one's rival does not necessarily mean a better showing.”—Life.

BELGIAN-HUNGARIAN LOVERS SEPARATED

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 18.—The love affair of Princess Louise of Belgium and her former riding master, Count von Matassich, a Hungarian subject and first lieutenant in the Austro-Hungarian cavalry, had an interesting aftermath recently when the count was ordered to leave Budapest for "political reasons". He was ordered to remove to his native town in Croatia, but eleven-hour intercessions by Dr. Viscontal, the legal advisor of Princess Louise, influenced the police to permit Matassich to remain in the capital under surveillance.

Back of the action lies the continued endeavor of the family of the princess to separate her from Matassich, who eloped with her when she was the wife of Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg in 1896. Some time ago the family suggested that the princess place herself voluntarily under guardianship but the princess has not yet consented to this. She was not permitted to live in either Vienna or Budapest, but finally obtained permission to reside in Munich, where she now is. It is considered unlikely that Count Matassich will be given permission to go to Munich, so that for the duration of the war, at least, the couple will be separated.

Princess Louise is the oldest daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium. In 1875 she married Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg, who was fourteen years her senior, when she was 17. She was 35 years of age when she met Count Matassich, who was employed as her riding master, and soon their relations became the scandal of Europe. Shortly after the elopement Count Matassich was arrested, charged with forgery in aiding Princess Louise to swindle Vienna moneylenders by cashing notes with the forged signature of Princess Stephanie. He spent a term in prison, while the princess was confined for several years in a sanitarium, from which she escaped in a sensational manner and returned to her lover, while Prince Philip brought suit for and obtained absolute divorce.

Up to Her.

Wife—"Do you object to my having two hundred dollars a month spending money?" Husband—"Certainly not, if you can find it anywhere."—Judge.

Such a Life.

"Don't you think it is extremely vulgar to dress as Miss Stylish does to attract attention on the street?" "Yes, indeed! I wonder who her dressmaker is?" "I asked her, but she wouldn't tell me."

HAWAIIAN PLANTERS ANNOUNCE SAVING IN REFINING PROCESS

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 10.—A new process for the manufacture of sugar from "final molasses" which was announced at the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association this month may, it is estimated, result in a saving of not less than $2,500,000 a year to the sugar men of the Hawaiian islands, and effect even greater saving in Cuba and other cane-growing countries.

The process was announced by J. N. S. Williams, of the island of Maui, who is the inventor. He has not patented his process and its use is, therefore, open to all sugar-growers. The planters' association went on record as recognizing Mr. Williams' discovery as the biggest achievement of the year in the sugar industry.

The process takes from the so-called "final molasses" approximately one half of the eight per cent of the sugar that has heretofore been considered a total loss. No process has been known by which this sugar could be crystallized and recovered.

In Mr. Williams' process the "first" molasses is boiled as usual, but instead of ceasing to boil it at the usual stage the boiling is continued up to the point of practical exclusion of all water. The resulting product, while still hot, is run into containers, where it is allowed to cool and solidify for about a week, becoming as hard as rock. This material, which contains the crystallized sugar, is broken up, passed through a crushing process, mixed with water until it becomes once more a molasses-like texture, and finally run through a specially constructed centrifugal. This makes about 2,000 revolutions per minute, about double the usual number, and it successfully extracts the sugar that formerly was lost.

The Art of Oratory.

"Did your speech change anybody's mind?"

"I wasn't hoping to change anybody's mind," answered Senator Sorghum. "I tried to find out what the majority of the voters thought and then convince them that I was with them."

COL. ALLAIRE HAS RESPONSIBILITIES OF A BRIGADIER GENERAL

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

EL VALLE SAN BUENA VENTURA, Mexico, Dec. 20.—Responsibilities usually assumed by brigadier generals have fallen to the lot of Colonel W. H. Allaire, of the 16th infantry, present commander of this camp, the most southern of the American Punitive expedition. Colonel Allaire, who is the only regimental commander of the ten who entered Mexico with the expedition last spring to retain his command, not only has his regiment and the camp, but heads the 8th Infantry brigade and directs maneuvers for one cavalry and two infantry regiments, several batteries of artillery, a company of engineers, a signal detachment and an aero squadron. Holding the most exposed part of the American line, the point Villa is expected to attack should he carry out threats he is imputed to have made against the expedition, the colonel not only has to keep out patrols but must direct the work of the intelligence department, the chief duty of which is to keep in touch with the bandit's movements. The task of keeping several thousand red-blooded soldiers healthy and as contented as may be in this desolate spot also taxes his ingenuity to the utmost. A constant source of potential trouble is the town of El Valle, whose four thousand residents formerly were considered Villa sympathizers and where there now is a Carranza garrison. This town is less than two miles from the American camp and strict precautions must be taken to avoid clashes.

Improvement on "Skis."

An increase of several yards in the jump of ski-runners is a rather surprising result of the process of metallizing objects by means of a spray. In Switzerland, a coating of aluminum of the thickness of thin cardboard is being applied to the ski-blades by this method, and this not only adds greatly to the durability of the bearing surface but it also very materially lessens friction, and tends further to prevent making of snow on the blades. It is the diminished friction that lengthens the jump.
